

THE LONDON PRINT DESIGN FAIR

28+29 March 2017

PRESS RELEASE

TLPDF is again fully booked with 60 of the most influential international print studios

On the 28th and 29th of March, London will be again the international hub for creativity and fashion design. The London Print Design Fair is the crucial event for all British professionals, visitors will have the extraordinary opportunity to preview the collections straight after the February 2017 catwalks.

Again, at the Business Design Centre, TLPDF finds its natural environment. The BDC, centrally located within the Highbury and Islington quarter, recreates the perfect atmosphere for such a vibrant fashion event.

Venue: Business Design Centre, Islington

Admission: Trade professionals only

Exhibit Profile: Print Studios, Vintage

Due to the close relationship between design and textiles, TLPDF will be again held together with Texfusion, which offer a wide range of fabrics and garments collections from the top international manufacturers.

The show is expected to attract more than 2000 buyers. Beside the regular customers from the UK, the show has buyers coming from Germany, France, Italy, Northern Europe, Russia and Middle East.

Online registrations are now open
